Louise Porter presents: "Guiding Children's Behaviour"

In this session, Louise describes how parents can prevent behavioural disruptions by meeting children's needs and by avoiding the use of rewards and punishments.

Louise Porter advocates a 'guidance approach' and shows how sensitive, child-centred communication can foster behaviour in young children that is thoughtful and considerate.

Louise is a practising child and clinical psychologist with a Doctorate of Philosophy in Early Childhood Education. She has written several books on children's behaviour
